

Goofy Goes Out To The Farm

by Brian Prchal

Once upon a time, not so long ago we found Goofy all alone. He looked sad. We asked him what the matter was and he said, "I am so tired of the same thing. Get up, eat, go to work, come home, and go to bed. I just want to get out and explore the world." So the next day we followed Goofy in his little car. He went here, there and all around town but he never looked happy. Finally at the last place he was smiling. It was the farm. Goofy was amazed of the pigs, chickens, goats, sheep, and especially the big cow. When farmer Brown saw this he knew Goofy would like to spend a day helping him. So Goofy went around the farm with farmer Brown, helping pick eggs, feed the pigs, and even milk the cow! Goofy was so happy that he jumped up and down, and the day was only half over! Farmer Brown showed Goofy how to drive the four-wheeler. Goofy drove it around the farm and went through the pig's mud hole. But sadly the sun started to go down and Goofy had to go with a frown on his face. Farmer Brown waved goodbye to Goofy. When Goofy got home there was a message on his message machine. It said, "Hi Goofy, its farmer Brown and I was wondering if you want to come again tomorrow. We will have even more fun because I just got a new lawn mower. You can cut my grass tomorrow if you want. I'll hope to see you tomorrow. Bye." Goofy paused for a few seconds and then said yah while he was doing cart-wheels around his living room. And this is how Goofy became a farmer.
